One for the World Giving Talk

One for the World is building a movement of people revolutionizing charitable giving by educating others on giving to highly-effective nonprofits, as part of their philanthropic portfolio.

We take an approach to philanthropy that would resonate with business-minded individuals because it is analytical, data-driven and focuses on doing the most good possible.

We would like to host an hour's talk for your employees to explain our approach to evaluating nonprofits and be presented with the opportunity to take the 1% Pledge with One for the World.
