Objectives and Activities

	SORP reference
Summary of the purposes of the charity as set out in its governing document	Para 1.17	The object of the CIO is to relieve financial hardship worldwide for the public benefit through the provision of grants and to educate the public about the consequences of extreme poverty and effective solutions to these issues.
Summary of the main activities in relation to those purposes for the public benefit, in particular, the activities, projects or services identified in the accounts.	Para 1.17 and 1.19	One for the World carries out activities that educate the public about the consequences of extreme poverty and effective solutions to these issues and raises funds from the public, which the organisation then regrants to highly effective charities working to end extreme poverty, at the discretion of the trustees. Specifically, the charity recruits, trains, and mentors groups of volunteers called 'chapters' to educate people about extreme poverty and how they can help solve it. The work of these volunteers is entirely based in their local communities and relies heavily on community organising. We believe a simple conversation can avert the death of someone living in extreme poverty. Our volunteers educate their peers about effective giving through talks, presentations, workshops, campaigns, and one-to-one conversations. They do this work by meeting their local communities on their own terms - on university campuses, in coffee shops, or at their workplace. Our volunteers work to make people aware of the incredible opportunity to avert deaths and meaningfully help those in poverty by supporting cost-effective

		interventions with money or time. This money is then collected by One for the World and regranting to selected organisations, which can demonstrate high levels of effectiveness in fighting extreme poverty. The trustees periodically select the organisations to which grants are to be made. We assess potential organisations using four criteria. These are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Transparency - is the organisation willing to be scrutinised and have the findings written up publicly? - Cost-effectiveness - what is the cost per outcome of the intervention? - Evidence of effectiveness - is there rigorous evidence that the intervention works, ideally multiple randomised control trials? - Room for more funding - can the organisation use further funding to extend their existing effective programs in a reasonable timeframe (typically within 3 years)? We partner with a world-leading charity evaluator, GiveWell, to assist us in the necessary research, due diligence, and communication to make these judgments. Once we have found organisations that meet our criteria, we make grants to those specific programmes that meet all four criteria so that we can be assured that grants are made to programmes that are both highly effective and can use additional funding appropriately.
Statement confirming whether the trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit	Para 1.18	The trustees have considered the Charity Commission's guidance on 'Charities and Public Benefit.'

Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	In our second full year of operation, we have supported four student chapters at Durham University, the University of St Andrews, the University of Cambridge, and the London School of Economics. We also gave corporate talks at Bain, Google, and Microsoft. Together, these efforts have helped us recruit 137 donors, who contribute roughly £25,400 annually to highly effective charities. Combined with one-off gifts, we have raised just over £140,000 for highly cost-effective charities. We anticipate that this will fund treatments that will avert approximately 28 deaths of people living in extreme poverty.

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	Our funding position is robust. We have very few direct expenses, having spent only £32,808 on charitable activities. Most of this (£10,543) was spent on freelance staff time.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	The trustees aim to maintain free reserves in unrestricted funds at a level that equates to approximately three months of unrestricted charitable expenditure. The trustees consider this sufficient to regrant funds efficiently and to cover support and governance costs.
Amount of reserves held	Para 1.22	The balance held at 30th June 2023 was £183,953, of which £21,360 are regarded as free reserves, against an actual 3 month spend of £2,554. The current level of reserves therefore exceeds our policy.
